Third Cold Wave
Is Coming; Deaths
In U. S. Total 150

Industrial Activities Are Curbed to Conserve
Fuel for Heating
Houses

(By The Associated Press)

The Midwest got a new batch of frigid weather from central Canada today, the third cold wave in a week, a week in which 150 deaths were attributed to the cold and snowy weather.

The fresh mass of cold air centered in the Dakotas and Minnesota and moved into other sections of the central states and the Rocky Mountain region. The Federal Weather Bureau in Chicago said temperatures across the country, except in southern Florida, were below normal.

The continued cold weather throughout the eastern half of the country found many communities curbing industrial activities as a measure to conserve fuel for domestic purposes.

The ice-clogged Ohio river was closed to navigation for the first time since 1940 and a dozen barges loaded with 405 new automobiles were caught in the ice 10 miles upstream from Evansville, Ind. The barges were en route from Cincinnati to Mayersville, Miss.

The death toll from causes attributed to the cold and snowy weather of the past week was counted in 26 states—in the east, midwest and south. Pennsylvania and West Virginia each reported 13 fatalities; there were 23 in the New England states; 10 in Texas and nine each in Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana.

Temperatures of nearly 30 below were reported in the icy regions of northern Minnesota near the Canadian border today and they were near that mark in parts of North Dakota and Montana. The mercury also skidded to below zero in Wisconsin, Michigan and Iowa and was near that mark in Illinois and Indiana.

The new cold wave was expected to move into the eastern states tonight but the temperatures today in northern New England were 5 to 10 below.

There was a wide belt of snow from the southern Rockies eastward into the Ohio river valley and freezing rain and sleet was reported in parts of Texas, Arkansas and Tennessee.

Another snowstorm—the fourth in a little more than a week—was forecast today for New York city, still digging out from under last Saturday's four-inch fall. The season's fall in the metropolitan area today, exceeding all previous marks through January 24. However, the record fall for the winter season in New York is 77 inches, set in 1902-03.

The dry spell continued in California but there was a promise of rain from a storm moving eastward in the Pacific near the Aleutians.

Stassen Gets Support

Manchester, N. H., Jan. 27 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen, seeking support from members of New Hampshire's "draft Eisenhower" movement, was told today he had a better chance than other aspirants to gain such backing. Stassen will "probably get the bulk of the Eisenhower supporters," Publisher Leonard V. Finner of the Manchester Evening Leader said in the presence of Stassen and reporters. Finner, the man to whom General Eisenhower wrote his "no available" letter, was one of the first to meet the former Minnesota governor in New Hampshire.

E. J. Neary Resigns

New York, Jan. 27 (AP)—Edward J. Neary today announced his resignation as state director of Veterans Affairs effective March 1, with the explanation that the agency program was "so well established" it no longer needed his personal attention. Neary, a former three-term Nassau county district attorney, said that he would be associated in the future with George Morton Levy, Nassau county attorney.

Mississippi Governor
Charges Attempt to Wreck South

Atlanta, Jan. 27 (AP)—Two southern states—Alabama and Mississippi—are considering secession again over the Negro question, this time from the national Democratic party.

Both, in brief, say they will not stand by idly if the national Democratic party includes three pro-Negro planks in the 1948 platform.

Specifically, both states are against planks favoring an anti-lynch bill, any anti-segregation measures and the Fair Employment Practices Commission Act. Mississippi brought up the subject of secession first and on an unequivocal basis, while Alabama put the matter on the basis that the national party could go too far.

In his inaugural address, Gov. Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi accused national Democratic leaders of aiming to "wreck the south and our institutions" and declared "the south will no longer tolerate being the target for legislation which would destroy our way of life."

The Mississippi governor said he would regret a break with the national party, but "vital principles . . . transcend party lines."

Immediately after the governor's address, a bill was introduced in the Mississippi Legislature to bind Democrats in primaries to vote for the party's candidates within the state, but absolving them of pledges to support any specific set of candidates in the national election.

If passed the bill would, in effect, permit Mississippi Democrats to bolt the national party.

Alabama's approach to the same situation was less direct. The state would regret a break with the national party, but "vital principles . . . transcend party lines."

Snowfall in City
Totals 50 Inches

Record Is Believed Set for 5-Week Period
in Kingston

Total depth of snow which has fallen in Kingston this winter so far was reported to be 50 inches at the city engineer's office today.

Although no comparative figures are available, it was thought that this is a record snow fall for a like period of time in this city.

Kingston has had as much as 86 inches of snow in one year, according to the records of that department, but it was pointed out that the 50 inches so far fallen this winter have fallen mostly in a five-week period between December 26 and the present.

If the weather continues as it has this winter it is possible that Kingston will have a record snowfall this winter.

Higher snowfalls have been recorded in other sections of the county, although the County Highway Department reported today that they have kept no measurements. Employees of that department said today that they thought the total snowfall was heaviest in the southern section of the county.

In his official report for December, Superintendent Ernest K. Steuding of the Board of Public Works said that 2,646 truck loads of snow had been removed during the month.

Both Houses Consider Ways
To Stop Oil Exports From U. S.

Washington, Jan. 27 (AP)—Senate and House today weighed separate proposals to stop all oil exports by law while a fuel shortage exists in this country.

Simultaneously a Senate committee suggested that the states fix new low speed driving limits, similar to the 35-mile-an-hour wartime limitation, to save gasoline.

A one-year ban on exports of oil would go into effect under a bill introduced last night by Senator Bridges (R-N.H.). Declaring himself "disgusted" with what he termed failure of the administration to help New England and other fuel oil shortage areas, Bridges asserted that the time has come for "direct action" by Congress.

The Commerce Department has allocated about 14,000,000 barrels of oil products for shipment abroad during the first quarter of 1948. Exports in 1947 totaled 167,535,000 barrels.

Oil for Albany Is

By Ice Conditions

Converted LST Battles
Upstream Against Floes; Carries Big Oil Supply

Residents of Albany, facing a serious shortage of kerosene, Monday hoped for arrival of the converted Navy LST "Albany" with 90,000 gallons of oil aboard.

The Trullish vessel which normally makes the trip from New York to Albany in 10 hours has been 48 hours on the way battling the ice locked Hudson river. Monday the "Albany" was reported to have become locked in the ice off Esopus island with motor trouble.

Later the "Albany" was able to fight northward to Kingston where it lay off the Rondout light during the night. This morning the Coast Guard reported the vessel was apparently making some progress up the river again aided by a cutter which was breaking the ice.

Albanyans meanwhile hoped the ship would dock in Albany by midnight. The "New York," another Trullish, is in New York ready to take aboard a second cargo of kerosene for Albany. Each of the ships is scheduled to make two trips and bring to Albany 500,000 gallons of desperately needed kerosene.

Monday three Coast Guard planes were over Kingston for some time. Inquiries of the state police and other law enforcement agencies disclosed that no planes had been reported missing and

River Areas to Get
Fuel Oil in Week

Bixby Says Shipment
Will Leave New York
Friday by Boat

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Jan. 27 (AP)—Hudson valley communities from Newburgh to Albany will receive 2,000,000 gallons of fuel oil within a week, an official said today.

James S. Bixby, area fuel oil coordinator for five counties, said the shipment will leave New York Friday behind a huge Coast Guard ice breaker which will smash a channel through the frozen Hudson to Albany. The deliveries should alleviate the shortage until April 1, he said.

The shipment, which Bixby said he hoped might grow to over 25 million gallons, will be shipped in quotas, including 1,500,000 barrels of motor gasoline, 120,000 of aviation gasoline, 130,000 of kerosene, 1,200,000 of gas oil and distillate fuel oil, and 300,000 of residual fuel oil.

Bridges' measure would block all exports, except those for U. S. military use, under penalties ranging up to a $10,000 fine or two years in prison, or both.

Bridges asserted in a statement that it appears "extremely shortsighted" to spend "so much time and money on the health and welfare of foreign peoples" when there is suffering from cold in this country.

A parallel embargo proposal—not yet in the form of a bill—was presented to the House by its Interstate Commerce Committee yesterday.

The suggestion to cut state speed limits came from a Senate Commerce Subcommittee headed by Senator Tobey (R-N.H.). He said the saving in gasoline might free some refineries to produce fuel oil needed in homes and factories.

Reed Says No One Can Tell How Much
Marshall Plan Will Cost Eventually;
Three Factors Allied to Final Assessment

Former Lieutenant
Held for Treason
For Nazi Programs

Monti, 27, Is Accused
by F.B.I. of Aiding
German Ministry
During War

New York, Jan. 27 (AP)—A former Army Air Forces lieutenant, accused by the F.B.I. of broadcasting for the German propaganda ministry over a Berlin radio station during the war, was held here on a treason charge today.

Bail was denied, a spokesman for the U. S. attorney's office said, because of the possible death sentence faced by the prisoner, Martin James Monti, 27, of Florissant, Mo.

The F.B.I., which seized Monti as he was discharged from military service yesterday at Mitchell Field, N. Y., said he broadcast from Berlin under the name of Martin Wietbaum.

The prisoner's father, Martin A. Monti, Jr., said in Florissant that the arrest that the former fighter pilot had told of making 15 to 20 radio propaganda transmissions for the Nazis in Germany "at the point of a gun."

The father said the former soldier, visiting his parents in the St. Louis suburb lately, related that he himself wrote six scripts on Allied bombings. Although they followed the propaganda line, the ex-lieutenant was quoted as saying, he had intended to tell the Allies subtly the extent of damage caused by the raids.

He was threatened while a prisoner, he said, and "I let them think I had become a Nazi. After all, they had the guns."

Account Is Given
Edward Scheidt, special agent in charge of the New York F.B.I. office, gave this account of the bureau's case against the ex-soldier.

Monti, while stationed in Karachi, India, in October, 1944, got a hitch-hike ride to Italy in an army plane.

There he stole a U. S. Army photographic plane and flew to Germany-held territory.

After the Nazi capitulation he made his way back to Italy and joined the U. S. Fifth Army at Milan. Later, he was returned to the United States by military authorities and court martialled for theft of the photographic plane and desertion. The sentence was a year in prison, but he was released as a private. He had advanced to sergeant by the time of his discharge yesterday.

Monti carried S.S. Elite Corps credentials while in Germany, the F.B.I. said.

After arraignment before U. S. Commissioner Edward E. Fay, Monti was sent to the federal house of detention to await federal grand jury action. The minimum penalty in conviction in such a case is five years' imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

The prisoner's father quoted him as saying that while he was a Nazi prisoner he sometimes was taken out by guards for walks in the woods, and that other prisoners often did not return from such walks.

The Germans, hearing that Monti hated Communism, approached him on making propaganda broadcasts, he said, and he agreed to make the broadcasts after implied threats.

"A civilian" for four months while making the broadcasts, he said he allied with the S.S. only to obtain a uniform to escape the Russians who were headed for Berlin.

Swindlers Resurrect
Mexican Bunco Letter

Postmaster William R. Kraft reports that several residents of Kingston have received unsigned letters, mailed in Mexico, asking the addressees if they would be interested in receiving one-third of $327,000. All that has to be done is to advance a few thousand dollars to release the man from jail so he can get to a custom house in the United States and redeem a trunk which is supposed to contain the money.

This is one of the oldest known swindles and any one receiving such a letter should at once turn it over to Postmaster Kraft who will immediately turn same over to the post office inspector in charge.

Wicks Says Tips

Employers Cut Out

Wants Remittance Classed as Misdemeanor;
Probe Is Asked
on Checking

Employers forcing workers to turn over tips given by patrons will face legal action if a bill introduced by Senator Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston is passed by the State Legislature.

The Republican leader of Ulster county has introduced a bill enjoining it a misdemeanor for employers to require remittance of tips given their employees.

Senator Fred G. Moritt, according to the Associated Press, today proposed a legislative investigation of what he termed the "hit-check and coat-check racket."

The New York city Democrat introduced a resolution calling for an appropriation of $25,000 to finance a probe by a joint legislative committee.

Moritt declared that tips given the check girls were turned over to their employers.

"Such a racket is, in effect, the extortion of many millions of dollars from residents and non-residents alike living in or visiting New York city and the state," he said.

A similar Moritt resolution last year died in committee.

Arrests Come to Nothing and Charges Are Dropped

A disturbance between the management and the pin boys at the Central Recreation alleys on Railroad avenue Monday resulted in a call being placed for the police and the arrest of two persons on charges preferred on each other, according to police records.

Fred Rice, 171 Lincoln street, assistant manager of the alleys, was arrested by a pin boy, Tarris F. Lewis, 20, of 32 Murray street, on a charge of third degree assault. Rice then arrested Lewis on a disorderly conduct charge. Both charges were withdrawn in city court this morning.

According to Rice, the pin boys have asked the management for a private room in which they can have a juke box and in which they can play cards during slack periods. Because of space limitations in the building, the management had to turn down this request.

Monday night, a group of pin boys who are leaders in the campaign for card-playing facilities broke in the back door and entered the other boys to leave the alleys, Rice said. Several of the boys returned, at the request of the management.

The leaders attempted to re-enter by the front door, but Rice, thinking they might cause more trouble, sent them home. Rice then closed himself in the door, to prevent the leaders of the campaign from coming back, and when Lewis attempted to push past him, Rice said, he tried to hold him back. During the affair which followed, some one called the police, and when they arrived, the two men placed each other under arrest.

Brownell Sees Dewey
In Wisconsin Primary

Des Moines, Jan. 27 (AP)—Herbert Brownell, one of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's campaign managers, says that Dewey's name probably will be entered in the Wisconsin presidential primary.

Brownell, former G.O.P. national chairman and manager of the New York governor's 1944 campaign, made the statement yesterday in an interview. He said Dewey already is in the running in New Hampshire and Oregon, will be in Nebraska, and "I understand he will be in Wisconsin."

Brownell conferred here with the Iowa Republican national committeeman and state chairman but said he did not plan to try to get Iowa's national convention delegation instructed for Dewey.

Anglo Price Trends Are Reversed After
Cripps' Announcement; Vote in French
National Assembly Is 17 to 15

London, Jan. 27 (AP)—Britain's pledge to protect the value of the pound brought a rally in government bonds today. Gold shares had a relapse.

The announcement by the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Stafford Cripps, after the market's close yesterday that the British will not follow France's lead reversed price trends which followed devaluation of the French franc.

France's action started a boom in gold shares on the stock exchange yesterday, but today short term speculators took their profits. South African gold mining shares lost most of yesterday's gains.

Government securities yesterday lost about $400,000,000 in value.

But today British transport and treasury 2½ per cent bonds, which fell to record lows yesterday, and old consols rose seven shillings sixpence ($1.50). Profit taking, however, reduced the gains to five shillings ($1.).

British treasury officials have worked out measures considered necessary to protect the pound from the results of French devaluation, which became effective yesterday. The pound is the standard for much of the world outside the dollar and ruble spheres.

Sir Stafford Cripps declared yesterday that whatever steps were decided upon to support the pound would be taken without advance notice. He gave no hint as to what these steps might be.

His announcement to the House of Commons came after the stock market experienced its heaviest activity since last July.

Reaction to devaluation of the franc developed in other capitals. The Czechoslovak National Bank announced the new exchange rate would be 23.25 crowns for 100 francs. The former rate was 42 crowns for 100 francs.

Denmark announced a new rate of 2.24 kroner for 100 francs, compared with an old rate of 4.045 for 100.

The Commonwealth Bank in London said it was

C. I. O. Spokesman Declares
U. S. Lax in Inflation Fight

Washington, Jan. 27 (AP)—A spokesman for a big C. I. O. union asserted today both the Democratic administration and the Republican Congress have been "seriously derelict" in fighting inflation.

Russ Nixon, Washington representative of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, told the Senate Banking Committee price controls should be restored immediately.

Along with them, he said, should go "power to allocate, ration and pay subsidies to producers, especially farmers, where necessary to assure production at reasonable prices."

Nixon, who said he spoke in behalf of 600,000 members of the union, criticized President Truman for asking only "standby" price control powers, "as though this problem were an 'iffy' matter."

He called the administration's anti-inflation bill "a feeble, too little, too late, complacent approach to an urgent problem" and added in his statement:

"The Republicans, with few exceptions, continue their support of the position taken by big business through the National Association of Manufacturers and the Chamber of Commerce, and oppose price controls generally."

Nixon said "the American people

G. E. Board Chairman
Says He's Convinced
U. S. Must Proceed
With Program

Washington, Jan. 27 (AP)—Philip D. Reed gave Congress a businessman's estimate today that no one can tell within $5,000,000,000 how much the Marshall Plan will eventually cost while Senator Taft (R-Ohio) predicted a G.O.P.-Democratic Senate coalition will cut the $6,800,000,000 asked to start it.

Reed, chairman of the board of General Electric Company, said that despite uncertainties as to the cost he is "convinced that we must proceed with the program."

Without it, he said, Western Europe will be converted into "a political and economic concentration camp."

Reed testified before the House Foreign Affairs Committee which is holding hearings on the aid-to-Europe program. Taft made his prediction in an interview.

(The so-called Marshall Plan proposed that the United States give Europe help for four years and three months in rebuilding its war-shattered business and economic structure. When President Truman first presented it to Congress, the cost was estimated at $17,000,000,000.

(Since then, all figures except for the first 15 months have been dropped from pending legislation, the administration asks $6,800,000,000 for the first 15 months.)

Speaks as Businessman
Reed spoke from a background as a businessman who has spent four of the last seven years in government service. For a year and a half he was with the War Production Board in Washington and for two and a half years in England as deputy and then chief of the U. S. Mission for Economic Affairs in London. He has made four trips to Europe since the war.

Reed said no one can figure Marshall Plan costs accurately for several reasons.

American prices have not been stabilized and no one knows where they will be in two or three years.

Good weather will mean a big difference in European food needs, he said.

And a third factor, Reed said, is the "Russian will do anything in her power to sabotage our program."

Reed said that if the Marshall Plan is not approved and Europe does go Communist he sees this prospect for the United States:

Billions more expenditures required for American military defenses, perhaps a 50 per cent boost in this outlay.

Greatly reduced trade with the rest of the world with American living standards suffering.

Such trade as remained would slip under government regulation to the point of jeopardizing its free enterprise system.

This Fellow Really
Wanted To Be A Cop

Detroit, Jan. 27 (AP)—Tony Rea, who has been trying unsuccessfully for five of his 23 years to qualify for the Detroit police force, was accused today of hiring a brawny friend to take a physical examination for him and a brainy one to pass the mental test.

Rea appeared in traffic court yesterday with 200-pound Robert Gilligan and student Joseph Sokolowski, identified by police as the brawn and the brain. Both, officers said, passed their tests with flying colors.

Judge John D. Watts placed each of the three on six months' probation after they pleaded guilty.

Police, who said they discovered the ruse when they became suspicious of the sudden jump in Rea's written exam rating, charged Gilligan was paid $15 for his part in the plan and Sokolowski did his share for free according lessons.

A discussion followed on these subjects and others of local interest. Reports were given by several other directors. Mrs. Ida E. Stephens read a letter of thanks from Castle Point Veterans Hospital for the Afghan and scuffles the union sent during the Christmas season. State reports and yearly directory reports were distributed to the members present. Those attending were Mrs. Raymond Hasbrouck, Mrs. Arthur Ingraham, Miss Emma Roosa, Miss Ethel Adair, Mrs. Willard Jenkins, Mrs. Ida E. Stephens, Miss Lois Betz and Mrs. Kniffen. Mrs. Jenkins extended the invitation to have the February meeting at her home on Wurts avenue. The meeting adjourned with the benediction.

Mrs. Mary DuBois Morgan, 88, resident of 17 Smith street, Poughkeepsie, died last Wednesday night at the Johnson Nursing Home in Poughkeepsie. ### Winter Salad Bowl Important Wintertime salad bowl makes a good open dish luncheon.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
N.E.A. Staff Writer

Everyone needs large quantities of salads in winter. They provide needed protective elements to the diet. By adding eggs and seafood, or sliced meat, fish or cheese, you add important protein and turn your salads into well-balanced one-dish meals.

Wintertime Salad Bowl
(Serves 6)

One and one-half cups cleaned shrimp broken into bits, 1 cup chopped celery, 1/2 cup sliced radishes, 2 tomatoes cut into chunks, 1 avocado cut in long slices, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon onion juice, 1/3 cup French dressing, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, salad greens, 2 hard cooked eggs, sliced. Toss together lightly the shrimp, celery, radishes, tomato, avocado and salt. Blend onion juice and French dressing with real mayonnaise; add to vegetable mixture. Arrange in a salad bowl lined with salad greens. Garnish top with slices of egg and several slices of avocado.

Homemade marmalade with oranges and grapefruit, both in good supply, is a breakfast thought worthy of action. This recipe has been perfected by cooking experts of the Department of Agriculture.

Scarlet Fever Reported
Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 27 (AP)—A report of 517 cases of scarlet fever in Pennsylvania brought a warning from the State Health Department for parents to "give their children every opportunity to get out in the fresh air." Dr. J. Moore Campbell, deputy health secretary, said the rate of the disease for the first 17 days of the year represents a 30 per cent climb over that for 1946, but added it has not yet reached the alarming stage. Dr. Moore attributed the current high rate to the severe weather, explaining that "cold weather tends to keep people indoors more than customary. This closer contact favors the passage of infection from one person to another."

Churches Oppose Training
Albany, N. Y., Jan. 27 (AP)—The New York State Council of Churches says universal military training is "unworthy of a peace loving, democratic nation."

A resolution adopted by the council last week and made public yesterday called for defeat of the U.M.T. proposal. The council said the economic life of the country "is being disrupted by a huge federal budget of which over 80 per cent is for past wars and present military preparedness."

67,000 State Employees To Get Emergency Raises

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 27 (AP)—New York State's 67,000 employees will receive emergency salary increases totaling $20,000,000, based on a sliding scale ranging from $900 to $216, in the fiscal year starting April 1, if the legislature gives its expected approval. (Adding qualification).

Under a compromise agreement reached between Governor Dewey's administration and the Civil Service Employees Association, the state workers will get cost-of-living raises on the following formula:

1—Fifteen per cent on the first $3,000 of compensation.
2—Ten per cent on the fourth and fifth $1,000 of compensation.
3—Five per cent on that portion of compensation exceeding $5,000.

4—No employee shall receive an increase of more than $900.

Provision for the increases will be made in Governor Dewey's 1948-49 budget to be submitted to the legislature Friday.

Meanwhile, Republican legislators met privately today to thresh out the issue of how much of a salary boost members of the Senate and Assembly should vote themselves.

New York city legislators, both Democratic and Republican, have been clamoring for $5,000. The present pay is $2,500. It was reported a number of upstate Republicans had joined the metropolitan group in favoring the $5,000 figure.

Dr. Frank L. Tolmap, president of the Civil Service Employees Association, announced the agreement on salary increases for state workers was reached after two months of "full and frank" discussion with the Dewey administration.

An increase for department deputies, the amount still undisclosed, is expected to be provided for in a separate bill.

The problem of extra pay for hazardous and arduous duty in state institutions came up during the negotiations, Tolmap revealed, but no agreement was reached.

He announced the association was calling a conference of representatives from state institutions to consider the matter.

Not included in the new salary schedule are legislative and judicial employees and state police. Whether any or all of these groups will receive increases has not been determined. Legislative and judicial employees got two wartime boosts.

Members of the legislature received today from the state C.I.O. a letter recording "unalterable opposition" to the proposed $900,000,000 ceiling on the unemployment insurance fund in order to assure continued rebates to employers, which are based on stability of employment.

The letter, signed by President Louis Hollander and Secretary-treasurer Harold J. Garro, said the C.I.O. "considers it imperative for the legislature to take a strong stand against this menacing attack on the unemployment insurance fund, which is certain to destroy its soundness."

The C.I.O. asked for an increase from $10 to $15 in the minimum and $21 to $30 in the maximum weekly benefits. It also asked for dependency benefits of $5 a week for the first dependent, $4 for the second and $3 for the third, and extension of benefits to unemployed workers who became ill while idle.

Growing with KINGSTON

A SUBSTANTIAL INCREASE in telephone service is considered proof of the growth and prosperity of the community.

The telephone system in Kingston has been expanding rapidly in recent years keeping pace with the growth of the city, and we thought you would like to know about it.

TELEPHONES. Since 1941 the local telephone system has increased from 8,600 to 12,300 telephones in service. The growth in 1947 was an all-time record of 1,000 telephones.

SWITCHBOARD. The demand for telephone service has been so great that we have had to provide nine additional switchboard positions in the local central office this past year.

CABLE. Nine miles of cable containing 5100 miles of wire have been placed in the City of Kingston during the past year.

CALLS. Our operators are now handling 67,000 local calls daily compared with 48,000 in 1941, an increase of approximately 40%. Out-of-town calls have increased 20% from 2600 to 3100 daily average.

EMPLOYEES. The telephone business in Kingston has grown to a sizeable local industry which now provides employment for 337 regular employees.

With the addition of over 500 telephones since January 1, this year, we have eliminated our waiting list which reached a peak of 900 in February, 1947.

While we are able to report substantial progress, the entire job is not completed. We recognize that there are many who have requested a change from party line to private line service. In the rural sections, we plan to reduce the number of parties on the line and provide more and better service for farmers. To accomplish both of these requires the placing of a great many additional miles of wire and cable.

Despite continuing shortages of material and equipment, our program will continue to go forward and no effort spared to clear these conditions so that adequate service will be provided to keep step with the needs and desires of the people of the Kingston area.

Air Policy Head Urges Strength to Preserve Peace

New York, Jan. 27 (AP)—A military strong United Nations committee with a strengthened international court of justice to "enforce a world law against war" were urged last night by the chairman of the President's Air Policy Commission.

The United States, Thomas K. Finletter said, should seek a special session of the United Nations to achieve these aims. An armed U.N. he added, should be accompanied by a corresponding disarmament of the member countries.

"It is time for a showdown on this business of organizing the world for peace," Finletter told the Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences of America.

"And when I say a showdown, I mean a showdown with ourselves as well as with Russia. We, ourselves, have not made up our minds that we want peace so badly that we will give up our tradition of strict nationalism and put all the chips on the international way of doing things, of which the United States is the symbol and instrument."

Time, he said, is running out. "We must make haste without politics for peace, for we cannot long endure in a world bristling with atomic and biological weapons, carried by long range jet bombers and traveling at near the speed of sound."

Finletter also called for "a United States of Europe." Nothing less than that, he said, would permit the U. S. with safety to withdraw its occupation forces from Germany.

Break in Weather Is Needed by Gas Workers

Pittsburgh, Jan. 27 (AP)—A real break in the weather is needed to send more than 2,000 workers in the Pittsburgh area—idled by the natural gas shortage—back to work.

District gas companies, which have cut off all gas to approximately 400 industrial plants, announced yesterday that no relief can be given until there is a "real break in the weather."

Many firms were using stand-by fuels but one industry spokesman said even these would have to shut down unless the weather cleared within a few days.

The Blawnox, Pa., plant of Blawnox Steel Corp. was hardest hit, furnishing 1,200 of its 1,400 employees. Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. reported an unestimated number of workers laid off at more than a dozen units in the Pittsburgh operating district.

Brooklyn Homes Warm Up Again As Gas Goes On

New York, Jan. 27 (AP)—Chilled south Brooklyn residents began thawing out today as heating gas flowed once more into their homes.

The supply to some 1,300 residences, most of them occupied by veterans, was shut off Sunday. Prolonged cold weather, the Brooklyn Borough Gas Co. said, had boosted consumption 25 per cent beyond its capacity to produce.

Three other companies came to the rescue, however, reviving the depleted tanks with an injection of 2,000,000 cubic feet from their own pipes.

The Brooklyn utility began the task of restoring service late yesterday. Its president, Miss Mary E. Dillon, whose own apartment was affected, said the new supply would be reaching all 1,300 homes by late this afternoon.

Meanwhile in suburban Rockland county, the two utilities serving that area announced that their supplies of natural gas from Pittsburgh lines had failed during the night.

The companies, the Rockland Light and Power Company and the Rockland Gas Company, said service had been discontinued to industrial plants. Curtailed supplies of gas are being piped into the homes of their 14,000 private consumers from emergency plants, the utilities said.

Claims Wrong Light Thrown on Soviet

New York, Jan. 27 (AP)—The head of the American-Soviet Friendship Council says the 1933 Russian-German non-aggression pact was "not dissimilar" to the neutrality of the United States at the time.

The Rev. William Howard McIlhenny, national chairman of the council, said yesterday in a statement that the U. S. State Department's recent release of documents concerning the pact was an "appeal to the prejudices of the uninformed among the American public."

The meaning of the documents, he declared, was "twisted and perverted" in an effort to justify the "cold war" against the Soviets.

The council was included by Attorney General Tom C. Clark in a recent list of what he called "totalitarian, Fascist, Communist or subversive groups."

It describes itself as a group devoted to fostering better relations between this country and the Soviet Union as "essential to the preservation of the peace of America."

The Facts All Gas Customers Should Know

An extremely serious situation exists. With the unprecedented Winter we are experiencing, and with the short supply of other fuels, particularly oil, people are turning to gas to supplement these fuels. Gas making equipment therefore is being put to unusual strain.

The send-out of gas on an average winter's day is in the neighborhood of 7,000,000 cubic foot. On Saturday, January 24, the send-out was close to 10,000,000 cubic foot. On other days too since the first of the year the send-out has been close to this figure. In order to meet this tremendous demand, all of the Company's regular and standby gas making equipment has been pressed into service. Ordinarily gas is delivered from the plant in Poughkeepsie, with Newburgh and Kingston plants ready to go into service in case of an emergency. However, now all plants are in service, and have been in service for a number of weeks. We have no more standby.

People should keep in mind that any mechanical equipment can fail. If anyone of a series of unfavorable situations should occur, it will become necessary to shut down some of the gas making equipment for repairs. Should this happen, we and you are going to be in serious trouble. It will mean that service to some industrial plants, some house heating customers and some others will be shut off. At the present time, industrial and house heating users are being checked to see who have other ways to supply heat and who can be shut off in the quickest time in order to reduce the gas send-out to serve the greatest good of all.

You can help in this emergency:

(1) Do not use gas to supplement other fuels, that is, do not turn your range oven on to heat your room when you have oil, coal or wood in the house.

(2) Use hot water sparingly.

(3) If you use gas for heating, keep the thermostat at 68 degrees daytime and 60 degrees at night.

(4) Cook your food, as much as possible, in the oven, cooking a number of dishes at one time with the same heat.

As long ago as 1945, at the war's end, studies were commenced to increase the gas capacity. As a result, in May, 1947, construction was started on a new 8,000,000 cubic foot per day water gas set in Poughkeepsie, together with other equipment now in process of installation in Newburgh. These new installations call for the expenditure of $1,650,000. However, due to difficulties in getting materials, this new capacity will not be in operation until this fall.

March of Dimes School Donations Going Over Top

Raymond H. Rignall, principal of School No. 6, and the school chairman for the March of Dimes Infantile Paralysis Drive reports that some 3,000 or more cards have been given out, one to every pupil in the city of Kingston. These cards hold five dimes.

"They are coming back full with the maximum quota of 50 cents. Out of the some 440 cards given out in School 8, on the immediate return of some 86 cards a sum of around $40 was realized. At that rate, 1948 records will beat all previous collections," Mr. Rignall stated. "It seems, this year, the March of Dimes drive has really caught on among the boys and girls," he further added. Mrs. William Powers, campaign chairman, has arranged for a special infantile paralysis movie which will be shown in all the schools through the efforts of Mr. Rignall. Due to the M.J.M. and Kingston High School having exams this week the March of Dimes collections will go on during the first week of February.

Guy-Wire Contact, This Caused Power Shutoff

A guy-wire on the Christmas decorations at the corner of Main and Partition streets came into contact with an electric primary line at that point shortly after 8:30 on Tuesday morning during a high wind. The burning during the primary line to contact caused the primary line to burn and fall, resulting in a power interruption to customers in that section of the village. Fortunately, the Central Hudson line-trucks are equipped with modern two-way radio, which enabled the company to dispatch a crew to the scene immediately. Repairs were made and service restored with a minimum loss of time.

Dear Mr. Atkinson:

I wish to take this opportunity to compliment you and your men for the prompt and efficient way in which you repaired the break in your lines on Main Street in the Village of Saugerties, Tuesday, December 16, 1947.

As you know, there are a great number of factories in this village dependent upon the electricity furnished by your company. When you installed radios in your service cars and trucks to insure quicker service, I believe you did our community a great favor. The above incident is proof of this.

Thanking you again, and wishing you the best of success in the future, I remain,

Very truly yours,

TWO-WAY RADIO COMMUNICATION

between field forces and headquarters is now an established fact. Heretofore, a truck and its crew might be at work in some isolated spot miles and miles from any method of communication. In those days repair and maintenance men had to depend upon whatever telephone they might be able to find. But storms come, winds blow, ice forms and power service may be damaged. The acts of nature that affect us affect telephone service, too.

Today, no matter where a truck and its crew may be at work—in remote mountain areas, on city streets or country roads—we are in constant touch with them, and they with us. This is another way by which Central Hudson is endeavoring to improve its service to you—in emergencies; to speed restoration of service following storm troubles; to speed routine work on both gas and electric lines.

BOY FRIEND VERSUS ESCORT
A young girl asks: "Is there anything improper about the term 'boy friend'? Mother thinks that it sounds cheap, but to me 'escort' doesn't describe the man I like best, half as well as 'boy friend.' Or does it?"

I agree with you. As a matter of fact, the acceptance of certain words and the rejection of others is as inexplicable as it is arbitrary. "Boy friend" is welcomed now by many fastidious people who have come to like the simplicity of "boy friend" far better than the pretentiousness of "escort."

Second Note Enclosing First
Dear Mrs. Post: I was married about two months ago. When going through my things the other day, I found a thank-you note which I had written the day before the wedding. It evidently had been mislaid in the confusion and never had been mailed. Since the gift was from a friend of my husband, whom I never have met, I am at a loss as to what to do. Should I send the note (which was written on stationery with my maiden name) along with a note of explanation or re-write the note on stationery printed with my new name?

Answer: I think your first suggestion is best. Enclose the note as found in a new one explaining that you had thought it mailed and are sorry to find it wasn't.

Frankness May Be Best
Dear Mrs. Post: I have just received an invitation so far in advance that it is impossible for me to pretend I have a previous engagement, but yet I don't want to accept and encourage this person's asking me.

Answer: If you really mean that you do not want to be friendly with this particular person, it seems to me that declining so far in advance may be the best solution of your problem.

Two Ring Bearers
Dear Mrs. Post: I will be married shortly at a double-ring ceremony and would like to know if I may have my two nephews as ring bearers.

Answer: It would be a novelty, but there is no rule against it. In fact, I think they would look sweet.

Same Officers Are Chosen by Welfare Group for 1948

At the annual meeting of the Ulster County Committee of the State Charities Aid Association last week in the County Welfare office, 32 Main street, reports were read and officers elected for the ensuing year.

During the balloting the same officials that served during 1947 were chosen again as follows:

Eugene B. Carey, former mayor of Kingston, president; Mrs. Howard A. Lewis of Kingston, vice president; Mrs. Virgil DeWitt of New Paltz, treasurer, and Philip Schantz of Highland, secretary.

The committee has functioned continuously since 1874, gratuitously looking after the interest of delinquent minors and dependent children committed to the care and supervision of the Child Welfare Department of the County Welfare office.

Part of the work done by the committee also is to assist child welfare workers in doing things for children that cannot lawfully be done by the Welfare Department.

Mrs. Virgil DeWitt, chairman of the Christmas cheer committee, reported on 165 stockings filled for children in foster homes with gifts and a dollar bill furnished through the generosity of individuals.

Miss Helen Van O. Kerr, state director of County Children's and Public Welfare Committees, attended the meeting and gave a very interesting report as to the work that is being done for dependent children by the various county committees throughout the state of New York.

Miss Elma Kullman, case supervisor of Child Welfare of the County Welfare Department, and Mrs. Nina Sloan, senior case worker, also attended the meeting. They were of great assistance to Mrs. DeWitt in distributing the stockings at Christmas time to the children and said that the employees of the Welfare Department were happy to have been asked to participate in the work.

Meetings of the county committee are held at 3 o'clock on the last Friday in January, April, July and October in the County Building, 32 Main street. Anyone interested in promoting sound and humane public administration of care and support for children in need, and in the aid to children in foster homes, is invited to join the committee and attend the meetings.

Tillie Taylor and Barney Spinella to Bowl for March of Dimes

All-Time Bowling Aces Due At Central Recs on Saturday

Tillie Taylor, of Englewood, N. J., former WIBC singles champion and Barney Spinella, of Brooklyn, one of the all-time American Bowling Congress greats have been booked for an appearance at the monster March of Dimes bowling exhibition Saturday night at the Central Recs.

The Taylor-Spinella tandem will roll against local mixed doubles pairings.

The second half of the Johnny Ferraro-John Schatzel vs. Pete Perrino-John Geschwinder doubles match also is scheduled.

"Hod" Spaulding, chairman of arrangements for the big bowling show, said other events would be announced later. The Saturday bowling climaxes March of Dimes Week in local leagues. The annual collections started last night.

Holds Three Titles

Miss Taylor is well known in Kingston having made several appearances here in the past, but veteran Spinella is a new personality. Although in his late 50s, the Old Maestro of Brooklyn, is still a feared shooter.

Spinella is one of nine men who have won three A.B.C. titles and shares the distinction of winning two all-events crown in the annual competition. Spinella capped the all-events in 1922 and again in 1927 and shared the doubles crown in 1922. His 2014 total in the 1927 all-events is one of the highest in the record books.

Local Girls Set

Among the local girls expected to compete against the famous bowlers are Rose Schatzel, Evelyn Moore, Bea Harley, Marge Jensen and others.

There will be an admission charge for this stellar attraction. Chairman Spaulding said.

"Saturday night should be a great night not only for local bowling but for the March of Dimes program as well," the chairman added. "We have a great show lined up and everybody interested in good bowling and in assisting a worthy cause should be there."

Complete details of the program will be announced tomorrow.

Kingston High Long Way From This One

Westerly, R. I., Jan. 27 (AP)—The Westerly High School basketball quintet boasted about one of the most impressive records in New England interscholastic sports history—99 victories out of its last 100 games.

Coached by Jim Federico, former Rhode Island State court star, Westerly won 88 consecutive games before being outscored by Central Falls High last season. Since then it has piled up 11 more straight victories.

No Peace Yet, Pasquel

New York, Jan. 27 (AP)—Peace between organized ball in the United States and the Mexican League apparently is a long way off.

Jorge Pasquel made that clear yesterday during an interview with reporters.

Pasquel, who induced a number of players to jump their organized ball contracts three years ago, said he was going to Cuba next week to sign players for the coming season.

"I don't care what they are, American, Cuban, Mexican. If they want to play baseball, and not just have a good time, I will pay them," Pasquel said.

Pasquel termed the recent peace talks between Mexican Commissioner Alejandro Aguilar Reyes and Walter Multry, secretary to Commissioner A. B. Chandler as inconsequential.

"If Chandler wants to do anything he must talk to me personally. Nothing can be done by a tourist," Pasquel said.

Honkies Edge Wallkill, 29-27

Kerhonkson High edged Wallkill High, 29-27, in a wild N.O.S.U. League basketball contest in which the lead changed hands even times in the second half.

Wallkill led 17-15 at the half-way mark and held a 23-20 bulge at the end of the third period.

Kerhonkson moved ahead 26-23 but Wallkill recovered on baskets by Barr and Monti to lead 27-26.

Frank Pugliese tied the score and with less than a minute to play Wallkill sank a one-hander from the foul line.

V. Pugliese of Kerhonkson and Hansen of Wallkill led the scorers with 10 points.

Lou Little To Yale?

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 27 (AP)—Speculation on the probable successor to Howie Odell as head coach of the Yale football team ranged widely today in a report that Lou Little of Columbia was favored for the post was countered by a denial that the Columbia mentor had already been offered the job.

The report which quoted "an unnamed member of the Yale athletic advisory committee" as authority was to the effect that Little was "the first choice of the group" and that Little had had conversations with the Yale committee.

From his Fairfield home, Edwin Foster Blair, chairman of the athletic committee, said that as far as he knew the committee "has not as yet arrived at a first choice." Blair said that the committee was compiling a list of foremost coaches "who might fit into the Yale situation."

He added that while it was certain that Little's name would be near the top of the list, no offer had been made to the Columbia coach. Meanwhile, announcement that Reggie Root, Yale line coach and Odell's chief assistant, would also transfer to the University of Washington was made simultaneously by Reggie and by Harvey Casill, athletic director of the West Coast University. Root said that he would leave for his new post just as soon as he could arrange his affairs here.

Hockey Showdown Postponed Day

St. Moritz, Switzerland, Jan. 27 (AP)—The executive committee of the international Olympic committee, ready to consider the ice hockey controversy which threatens to upset the winter Olympic games opening Friday, today postponed its session until tomorrow because of the absence of two members.

Faced with the threat of an American walkout from the games, the international Olympic committee's executive committee will meet to determine which of two United States teams would take part in ice hockey competition starting in 72 hours.

The group is acting as a court of appeal, of which there is only one higher authority—the full session of the I.O.C. on Thursday.

Avery Brundage, president of the U. S. Olympic committee, said he would argue that the team from the Amateur Hockey Association of America did not represent the United States.

Kerhonkson Otto Clippers nosed out Napanoch Institute, 61-50, in a free scoring, non-league game on the Napanoch court Sunday.

Jerry Greene led the winners with 19 points, with C. Schoonmaker sinking 16. Smith and Reid hit for 17 apiece for Napanoch.

Philadelphians, Jan. 27 (AP)—Outfielder Sam Chapman added his name to the 1948 roster of the Philadelphia Athletics while Dale Jones, who pitched for Utica in the Eastern League last year, agreed to terms with the Phillies.

Chapman, who has been spending the off-season at Tiburon, Calif., forwarded his signed contract to the A's yesterday with the confident prediction that he will hit over 300 this season.

Jones, a tall thin right-hander who played with the Phils in 1942, was sent back to the minors where he spent five years before showing up to splendid advantage at Utica.

Crack Wappers Cagers Here Wednesday

The Hudson Valley's outstanding independent basketball club—the undefeated Pro-Vets of Wappingers Falls—risk the wrath of the aroused Kingston Legionnaires in Wednesday night's attraction at the municipal auditorium.

Coach Andy Dykes doesn't have to resort to needling to arouse the Legionnaires for the impending invasion of the crack Dutchess county quintet.

He need only remind Andy Murphy and company of the shellacking they suffered at the hands of the Pro-Vets in their first meeting in Wappingers. The score was 41-26 and nobody has pushed the locals around like that this season—not even the Hawaiian All Stars, the best club to show here.

Westrum on Squad Sparkplugs of the Wappingers squad are Long John Cottrell, a 15-point per game cager, and the popular and well known Westrum of New York Giant baseball fame. There are others, too, apparently all good.

Wappingers humbled the Newburgh Legion, Catskill Legion and recently accomplished the almost incredible feat of whipping the Millerton quintet twice in the same day. The second triumph came on the Wassaic State School court where the Millertons had been untouchable for the past two years.

Andy Dykes thinks Wappingers is headed for the fall since the visitors will catch the Legionnaires on the rebound of the torrid Hawaiian fracas. Furthermore the revenge motive is expected to put the locals in a fighting mood.

The main bout on B'nai B'rith boxing card Thursday night at the municipal auditorium is regarded as a preview of what might turn out to be an Olympic feature in London, England.

Ronnie Lacelle won the right to represent Canada in the worldwide sports event, and his opponent, Jackie "Spider" Thompson of Buffalo, is the choice of some New York city writers as the prospective national champion for the United States.

Both boys will be boxing in Kingston as junior lightweights, being over their normal weight, but will make the featherweight limit for their Olympic bids.

Lacelle, who scaled 132 in the gymnasium yesterday, is a seasoned ringman. Besides knowing a lot about the rudiments of boxing, he can punch. Mel Swartman, his coach, is confident he'll come through with flying colors in his bid to make the Olympic team.

George Lampshire, trainer of Thompson, who also handles professional boxers, is of the opinion that he has a jewel in the Buffalo boy who won the Niagara District A.A.U. Golden Gloves title.

"My featherweight is second to none," he opined. "I look for him to make the Olympic team, and win a world title."

Boxing fans who saw Lacelle and Thompson put up sizzling battles against strong opponents on previous cards look for them to furnish plenty of action when they step into the auditorium ring as foes Thursday night.

Virgilio on Card

Supporting bouts are attractive too.

In one of the five rounds Claydon Kenny, stablemate of Lacelle from Ottawa, Canada, is matched with Al Brown, one of New York's anxious contestants in the Golden Gloves.

Carmine Virgilio, Poughkeepsie bantamweight, once regarded as one of the best men in his class along the Hudson valley, will tangle with Johnny Piche, Canadian flash.

Joey Sandulo, the "Mad Russian" from Ottawa, will meet Lou Jacobs, Buffalo slugger, who keeps punching from bell to bell.

There will be three three-rounders as preliminaries, the first scheduled for 9 o'clock. Two local boxers, "Butch" Albright, 160, and Chris Miller, 126, are being considered for matches, and will be on the card if suitable opponents can be picked.

George Magerkurth, whose booming voice was heard in the National League for 19 seasons, stood up his equipment at his home, Big George denies that Lippy Durocher's return to Brooklyn had anything to do with his retirement as an umpire. He spent 41 years in baseball, 26 of them as an arbiter.

MacPhail, the Mellowed, Nixes Future Baseball

Bel Air, Md., Jan. 27 (AP)—Larry MacPhail, living the life of a gentleman farmer on his magnificent 60-acre estate near here, swears he never will return to baseball.

"Nineteen years of working 12 to 18 hours a day is enough," declared the former boss of the Yankees. "I'm through, and you can bet your last dollar on that."

MacPhail insists he has only kind thoughts of Commissioner A. B. Chandler for his sports partner of last spring. He adds that, actually, only one big league owner is so dead set against Chandler that he wants to buy up his contract and get him out of there.

"There's nothing the matter with Happy except that he's got rabbit ears," Larry observed. "He can hear criticism a city block. Once he gets over that he'll be a good administrator."

"Know why he threw the book at Leo Durocher last year? I think, personally, that it was because he had just read a magazine piece blasting him (Chandler) and saying he wasn't as tough as Judge Landis had been. There wasn't any other reason for it."

In The Pocket

with CHARLIE FIANO

Bagatelles: "Duke" Landgraf certainly could never be accused of nepotism in his relations with the Kingston Dodgers during the hectic 1947 North Atlantic League baseball season. Duke and the Dodgers loved each other dearly and each cherished the ground that was coming to the other.

Thus, it comes as no great surprise to learn that the "Duke," a man of several hundred thousand words, is about to chastise Ray Lapolla, business manager of the Peckskill Highlanders for the effrontery to admit that Mr. Landgraf's circuit has eight teams on paper for 1948, one of which (Nyack) is very likely to fold.

Lapolla, obviously an uninhibited soul with the best interests of the N.A.L. at heart, knows that Nyack might not last out the 1948 season and quite possibly might not even start the 1948 race. He is looking for a sound franchise in New York state besides Peckskill. He thinks Kingston is it.

The Unpardonable Crime! But when Lapolla committed the unpardonable sin of by-passing channels in communicating with the Kingston Chamber of Commerce and angry baseball interests in Kingston, he left himself wide open for the full impact of Mr. Landgraf's wrath.

And from what we know of the Duke, it is the world's most redundant wrath. The man pours out words at a terrifying rate and his typewriter is equally facile. It is irrelevant that several hundred commas, verbs and other figures of speech are often conspicuous by their absence. Mr. Landgraf doesn't try to persuade you with eloquence. He just overpowers you with volume and consonants.

By now the Duke has retired within his ivory tower in Allentown Pa., and when the scroll has been completed and Mr. Duke has affixed his signature thereto, chances are Ray Lapolla will be a very unhappy young man. He will realize more than ever what a bit of unrestrained initiative can do for a fellow. If Mr. Duke is as hypocritical about this situation as he was in the "Sugar" merger rhabarb last summer, then Lapolla will get you know what and

The fact that Landgraf no longer loves Kingston comes as a great shock to us. We recall with a whiff of nostalgia the pleasant visit he made to the editorial department a year ago, when the Kingston N.A.L. romance was in full bloom. Forgetting entirely the great distance between the city and the Pennsylvania hold-outs which apparently irks the Duke at the moment, he flooded the room with chatter for several hours, oblivious of the fact that we were trying to get out a newspaper. Landgraf spoke in the past present and future tenses. Ah, Kingston was a great town to be sure.

We Have a Dog Named Duke: A year later he isn't so sure. He wants that all-Pennsylvania league he has always dreamed of and it is no secret. Baseball men have known it for a long time. The Dodgers were too tough for the N.A.L., too tough for Landgraf. Duke wants to forget it all and at long last he has found the scapegoat—Ray Lapolla.

This could go on forever but, fear not, it won't. We just happened to remember that out home in the wilds of Flatbush we have a very favorite dog. Everybody in the family loves him. His name is Duke.

Flotsam and Jetsam: A "Maid in Waiting" indulging in a stint of leg-pulling sheds tears over the sudden demise of the Duchess. . . . She even volunteers to succeed the Duchess if the latter feels compelled to quit. . . . We're happy to report the Duchess will cut loose with another blast of Shakespearean folio in the next few days.

Middletown High reached an all-time low in its recent basketball debacle in Liberty, scoring exactly two baskets while submitting to a scaly treatment by the Redskins. . . . Ed "Chief" Leonard, who was recently cited for 25 years service with the Kingston Police Department, was quite a ball player in his youth. . . . Our earliest recollections of the Chief was in the early 20s when he was a long-ball terror of Roundout and he visited East Kingston occasionally to do battle against the Studebakers of that era.

Incidentally, Ken Hyatt, the police president, did a swell job of emceeing the dinner at Cuneo's.

Of Men and Mice: "Red" Murray, whose Pop was quite a basketballer in his day, apparently hasn't lost the keen eye that earned him fame at K.H.S. . . . Red was seated near a basket in the Saugerties gym the night of the K.H.S.-Saugerties imbroglio and Big Ed Weaver tossed him the cakskin five times. . . . From a sitting position, Murray dropped in five baskets! . . . The Saugerties Golds, always fond of Kingston talent, have added Charlie and Eddie Beck to the roster. . . . From all accounts those Hawaiian basketballers were the hottest to hit Kingston since the Kate Smith Celtics. . . . Larry Cahill, Saugerties Kingston since the Kate Smith Celtics. . . . Mr. Cahill's basketballers must think so, too. They have committed only 75 fouls in two games against the Maroon.

MULLIGAN MIKE SAYS: At least one advantage of the 17-billion, super dupur WPA recovery plan for Europe is that Americans won't have to watch the leaf-raking.

Gotham Boasts Only Unbeaten Major Fives

New York, Jan. 27 (AP)—That select list of the nation's undefeated major college basketball teams finds itself, today, of all things, just a big and happy neighborhood party in Father Knickerbocker's backyard—a nickel subway ride would hit all three.

Three New York teams, Columbia, New York University and Fordham rule the intercollegiate cage roost supreme, for the present at least, after Duquesne bowed out, the undefeated runks last night amid a near riot in Pittsburgh.

Newburgh Shaptons increased their Hudson Valley League lead to two games over the Kingston Flyers by knocking off the Newburgh Taxis in a fratricidal match in the Hill City.

Tommy Jones hit 431 and Wally Gerken 633 for the Shaptons. The Taxis failed to negotiate a 900 game and had only one "200" game, a 202 by Joe Zmudzinski. Ellenville Waydies knocked off Middletown Lustberg Nests, 2-1, in Ellenville, while Lehigh Valley P.V.C. won the old set from the Middletown Eagles.

Kelder, Howard Star
Dick Howard and Ramon Kelder bagged the only "500" titles in the City League. Of interest to the purists was the Colonials' two game loss to Schneider's Jewellers, the 22-game streakers' fifth loss in the last six sets.

Howard compiled his 632 with 189-235-208 on the rugged Emmanuel drives where six hundred are about as plentiful as dinosaurs. Jim Schroeder shot 202 as Jack's Restaurant cemented their league lead by sweeping three from Livingston.

Kelder's 206-212-100-608 featured Schneider's 2-1 triumph over Colonials. George Flemings had 221-583, "Hot" Spaulding 225-591, Lew Hynes 208-561.

Other top scorers: Rudy Smith 207-410; Ad Hill, Kuhn 205-231-563; Ad Jones 233-588; Herb Van Deusen 217-566; Fred Rice 203-221-424; W. Thiel 212-574.

Welch Blinks 582
Tom Welch's 582 compiled with 220 and 203 after a 159 opener set the pace for the City Minor League, as the intermediate pinsters rolled a batch of "300" triples.

Frank Nagy shot 221; Tatar, grumpy 221-547; Day 201-437; Ilenky 199-544; W. DuBois 202-553; Eddie Schupp 221-554; J. Misasi 202-545; Norm Sande 211; Ben Sklon 200-580; Irv Wilpan 202-213-513.

Also: Heron 200; Ausanio 213-567; Tom Parker 191-533; Frank Nerone 191-524; J. Wolfenstein 223-569.

Don Vogel Cracks 628
Don Vogel scattered the maples for a hefty 256 and 628 to take top honors in the Independent loop. Vogel added 202 and 168 to his string. Gene Vogel kept the tribal name alive with 204-589.

Chas. Gruenwald shot 579. B. Davis rolled 203-588.

Elsewhere in the loop, J. Davis posted 202; C. Davis 554; Ray DuBois 224-573; M. Cole, Jr., 245-537; Ed Trimble 220-541; Jim Daniels 197-562.

Craig "Commodore" Plough and Cliff Schryver paced the Freeman League with 506 and 502 respectively. Other good scores were J. Walter "Small Business Man" Sharp 189-486; Milt Buddenhagen 175-469.

Bills Proposed in Legislature

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 27 (AP)—One of the severest Republican critics of the Dewey administration's local "nuisance" tax program today proposed extension of the permissive power to all cities and first class villages.

But Assemblyman Orlo M. Brees also demanded a "strict home rule" safeguard by which 10 per cent of the voters could force a referendum to decide whether a local government could levy any of the non-property taxes.

The Endicott legislator said he had given up all hope of seeing the entire controversial statute repealed. He introduced a bill last night to "enlarge the scope" of the program, now limited to counties and cities of 100,000 population or more.

Brees observed that "many of my colleagues believe that local levels of government need additional powers of taxation to finance locally-mandated expenditures."

He termed the Dewey program "a complete failure," however, in solving educational fiscal problems, and his bill also provided for:

1. Repeal of the educational earmark on non-property tax revenues collected by counties, thus enabling them to utilize the levies for general county purposes.

Reduction of the present 50 per cent state income tax—forgiveness" to 25 per cent with the increased revenue, which he estimated at more than $70,000,000, available as potential state aid to education.

Other bills or resolutions would:

1. Give the Public Service Commission broad authority to order transfer or curtailment of gas supplies in order to relieve shortage-stricken areas.

Republican Assemblyman Stanley C. Shaw of Ticonderoga and Robert Winney of Upper Nyack introduced the bills empowering the Public Service Commission to act broadly in combating local gas shortages.

The measures would enable the P.S.C. to order utilities to transfer gas to shortage-hit areas, install and operate emergency facilities for such service, and "curtail or discontinue" service to industrial consumers in an emergency.

2. Create a 12-member committee to study the pay and working conditions of the state police, as well as division administrative procedures, with an eye toward recommended changes "to improve the efficiency and morale of the force." (Assemblyman James G. Lyons, D-Monticello).

3. Establish a state teachers college on Long Island (Senator S. Wentworth Horton and Assemblyman Elisha T. Barrett, R-Suffolk).

Shriners' Association Committee at Annual Ball

Shriners' Ball Is Enjoyed by 1,500; Vaudeville Is Tops

An audience of 1,500 enjoyed the annual Kingston Shriners' Association Ball Monday night at the Municipal Auditorium, when an excellent vaudeville show and a Meyer Davis orchestra were featured. Five acts were presented in the show, two of which were in the unusual field for entertainment. Net proceeds will go to the Children's Home, East Chester street, formerly the Industrial Home.

Something entirely different for shows in Kingston was the presentation of a table tennis match between champions. Bellak was introduced as three times national singles champion; five times national doubles champion and nine times a representative on the championship team. His opponent was Miss Peggy McLean, student at Queens College, who recently took the Canadian singles championship.

In the preliminary antics before the actual match, the team performed some of the most outstanding stunts used in the popular game. Just to confuse his opponent, Bellak was able to return the ball by using the top of his head, his foot or by blowing the ball. His trick curve was demonstrated when he stood 40 feet from the table and served three balls at a 45 degree angle, in the nine count match Bellak won by one point.

Another unusual routine was that of tap dancer, Bobby "Tales" Davis, who had just completed a two and a half year run at Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe. In addition to his rapid tap dance, he lifted several tables and chairs with his teeth. As a finale he balanced two tables and a chair and proceeded to carry all three off the floor by holding them in his teeth.

Prince Hara was the pick-pocket who used six men from the audience as victims. He quickly slipped watches, wallets, gum, matches, handkerchiefs, suspenders and even a man's shirt from his assistants.

The Skating Carters were a father, son, mother and daughter roller skating team who performed on a small circular carpet. Most of their act consisted of fast revolutions with one of the quartet acting as pivot. At one point when the son was whirling his sister, she held a match in her mouth and lighted it by striking it on the floor.

The Atlas Trio which opened the show demonstrated strength as one after the other was held aloft, sometimes, one holding the other two. All of their routines were accomplished with as little motion as possible and with stately grace.

The show was booked through the National Radio and Theatrical Bureau, New York city, and was personally supervised here by Louis Riccio.

Joe Wallace was the master of ceremonies and welcomed the audience on behalf of the Shriners' Association and Gordon Craig, president this year.

The hall was decorated with the red and yellow colors of the association and the bunting was marked with the Shriners' symbol. The entertainment was held in the center of the dance floor and the orchestra was seated on the stage.

Louise Overell Is To Find Fortune Has Taken Plunge

Los Angeles, Jan. 27 (P)—Eighteen-year-old Louise Overell, acquitted last fall of slaying her parents aboard their yacht, may find she doesn't have as much money from their estate when everybody gets through taking a whack at it.

The estate of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Overell has been appraised at $436,984, and Louise, sole heir, is receiving her money at the rate of $500 a month.

Her guardians told Superior Court yesterday that there are more than $400,000 in creditors' claims against the Overell estate and that other contingent claims may still be filed. Their statement said that "if these claims are granted, there will be a deficit balance in the estate after taxes and administrative expenses are deducted."

Otto Jacobs, Santa Ana lawyer who defended Louise against the murder charge, wants the allowance boosted to $10,000 a month so she can pay him $100,000 in fees for his services. Lawyers for her guardians, Fred and Emmanuel Jungquist, are opposing any change in the terms of Overell's will, which provides that she is to get a flat sum when she is 21, and more 10 years later.

But a settlement out of court on Jacobs' fee suit is indicated, and yesterday the lawyers for the guardians and Jacobs asked for and were granted a continuance of the hearing until Feb. 26.

Miss Overell was engaged to marry George Gollum when her parents died aboard the Mary E last March 15. She and Gollum were acquitted and as soon as the verdict was returned, the girl announced that she was through with her erstwhile lover.

Louise will not be without funds even if the estate is pared down. She will receive $140,000 in insurance from her parents' policies and a $40,000 trust fund they established for her during their lifetime.

Police Report for Year Shows 736 Persons Were Arrested

In his annual report on the work of the Kingston Police Department which he submitted to the Board of Police Commissioners on Friday, Acting Chief Raymond Van Buren included a detailed report on the ages, occupations, and social conditions of persons arrested during 1947.

Some of the disclosures of this report are:

More men between the ages of 20 and 30 were arrested by police than any other group, but more women between the ages of 40 and 50 were arrested than any group of women.

More single persons, both men and women, are arrested than married persons.

Of the men arrested, the greatest number were laborers; of women, the greatest number were house wives.

More persons who have completed grade school were arrested than either those who had high school or college education or those who had no education.

Almost all of those arrested were born in the United States.

More men were arrested described as temperate, than those who were temperate; but more temperate women were arrested than intemperate.

All but three of the total of 736 arrested told police they have had religious instruction.

More persons whose parents are deceased were arrested than persons who have one or both parents living.

More men were arrested in August than in any other month, but more women were arrested in September.

Patrolman Earl F. Schoonmaker made more arrests than any other member of the police force. He arrested 72 persons. Patrolman James E. Burns was second with 66.

Of the total of 736 persons arrested, 126 were committed to jail and 67 were fined. Suspend sentences were given to 135, and 198 persons forfeited bail. The court ordered 23 held for grand jury, and 49 were turned over to outside officers. Charges were withdrawn in 22 cases and 60 persons were discharged by the court. One person was placed on probation and seven were sent to children's court. Forty-eight cases are still pending.

Most numerous violation was public intoxication, accounting for arrests of 194 males and eight females. Disorderly conduct was second, with 128 men and 12 women arrested on that charge. Violations of the city traffic code caused 111 arrests, of which nine were women, while 97 persons were arrested for violation of state vehicle and traffic laws. Assault, third degree, accounted for 63 arrests, including two women.

Age Group	Male	Female	Total
Under 10 yrs.	0	0	0
10 to 20 yrs.	53	8	61
20 to 30 yrs.	138	12	150
30 to 40 yrs.	145	15	160
40 to 50 yrs.	170	16	186
50 to 60 yrs.	89	4	93
60 to 70 yrs.	29	1	30
70 to 80 yrs.	11	1	12
80 to 90 yrs.	2	0	2
Total	687	49	736

Education	Male	Female	Total
College	56	4	60
High School	215	20	235
Grade School	407	24	431
None	9	1	10

Following are the occupations to which the greatest number of arrested persons belonged, followed by the number of arrests in parenthesis:

Laborer (249), chauffeur (40), unemployed (30), salesman (28), cook (25), student (21), painter (15), farmer (15), machinist (15), mechanic (13), clerk (12), auto mechanic (11), housewife (10), mechanic (10).

Of the total number of persons arrested, 420 men and 32 women had never been arrested before. The remaining 267 men and 17 women had been previously arrested.
